

The Hemingway-Pfeiffer Summer Writers' Retreat

Hemingway-Pfeiffer Summer Writers' Retreat

June 17-21, 2024

HEMINGWAY-PFEIFFER
MUSEUM AND EDUCATIONAL CENTER
Piggott, Arkansas

The retreat offers adults the opportunity to work on personal creative writing, share their work, receive feedback, and interact with others interested in writing. Writers have the opportunity to work in the Barn-Studio where Ernest Hemingway wrote during visits to Piggott. Not all writers come with something in mind to write, but many do. The retreat is structured to be interactive, a time when friendships are formed, craft is honed, and creativity is enhanced.

This year's Hemingway-Pfeiffer Writer-in-Residence Annmarie Kelly-Harbaugh will serve as mentor for the retreat. She is the author of Here Be Dragons, a memoir about the wonderful misery of raising children with someone you love. She also hosts Wild Precious Life, a literary podcast about making the most of the time we have.

Annmarie teaches writing at Ashland University where she also works with incarcerated students trying to obtain their degrees. Her essays have appeared on numerous publications and staged with the Cleveland Humanities Festival and Listen to Your Mother, Pittsburgh. In her non-writing moments, Kelly-Harbaugh loves kickboxing, karaoke, dogs, ping-pong, books that make her laugh, movies that make her cry, and salads other people make her eat. She lives in Cleveland, Ohio, where she is currently querying a novel about all the truth in the lies we tell.

Excerpt from Ernest Hemingway's acceptance speech for the 1954 Nobel Prize—Literature:

“For each writer each book should be a new beginning where he tries again for something that is beyond attainment. He should always try for something that has never been done or that others have tried and failed. Then sometimes, he will succeed. How simple the writing of literature would be if it were only necessary to write in another way that which has been well written.”

Ernest and Pauline Hemingway's Paris Wedding
 May 10, 1927

The Hemingway-Pfeiffer Museum and Educational Center in Piggott, Arkansas, is the former residence of Paul and Mary Pfeiffer, whose daughter Pauline was married to the great American writer Ernest Hemingway.

Pauline met Ernest and his first wife Hadley in 1925 at a party in Paris. Pauline had graduated from the University of Missouri School of Journalism in 1918 and worked for the Cleveland Press and Vanity Fair in New York before accepting a job with the Paris bureau of Vogue magazine.

After their marriage on May 10, 1927, Pauline and Ernest remained in Paris for a time, settling later in Key West, FL. During their marriage, from 1927-1940, they were frequent visitors to Piggott, and the Pfeiffers converted their barn into a studio to give Hemingway privacy for writing. It was in this unlikely spot that he wrote portions of A Farewell to Arms and various short stories.

HPMEC offers Writers' Retreats for adults, Young Authors Workshops, an annual Student Art Exhibition, and other special events.

Tours are on the hour:
 Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.
